

THE TERRIBLE ACCIDENT OF ÅLESUND

I was in the terrible accident of Ålesund.

Everything went wrong.

First of all, the night of the 23rd of January of 1904 the city was in flames, I took my things and my little sister and we left. We only had a few minutes for going out.

After that, we had to rebuild the city with the help of Germany. The city was very beautiful, we chose the architectural style of the time, Art Nouveau.

I was so afraid during the fire but when I was safe with my family I felt a little safer, but even today I remember that horrible moment when the people rushed out of the city.
