

“FIRE IN ALESUND”

My name is Alba. I live in Alesund, Norway, but I live in the new Alesund. The old Alesund burned in 1904. In 1904 Alesund burned. I was very young. I remember some things about this day. I went to school. In the playground we were warned we had to go to the next village because there was fire.

We were in town for several months because after the fire, the town was destroyed. We could not return until the spring of next year.

I love the new Alesund, but I miss the old town.
